International Museum Day

What do you picture when you hear the word museum? The skeletons of dinosaurs? Fossils of extinct animals? Old civilizations?

The objective of International Museum Day (IMD) is to raise awareness about the fact that, "Museums are an important means of cultural exchange, enrichment of cultures and development of mutual understanding, cooperation and peace among peoples."

Tomorrow, we encourage everyone to dress up as what you would see at a museum!

Sorry We're
CLOSED

As you all may know, Victoria's day is on May 20th, so Little Scholars will be closed. We hope you enjoy the long weekend!

May 7th marks our 6 year anniversary! A big thank you goes out to all our families who have given us the opportunity to love and teach their children. Our amazing team of educators also deserves a huge thank you as they work very hard everyday to keep us successful!

World Day of Cultural Diversity

Every year on May 21, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization lead the celebration of World Day for Cultural Diversity which highlights not only the richness of the world's cultures but also the essential role of intercultural dialogue for achieving peace and sustainable development.

There are many ways we can do our part to help contribute to their goal by:

- Visit an art exhibition or a museum dedicated to other cultures.
- Learn about another religion.
- Listen to a musical tradition from a different culture.
- Play a sport related to a different culture (Karate, Criquet)
- Cook traditional food from a different cultures
- Learn about traditional celebrations from other cultures

Cinco De Mayo

In English, 'Cinco de Mayo' means 5th of May, which celebrates the Mexican army's victory over France at the Battle of Puebla during the Franco-Mexican War.

They celebrate it by participating in Mexican folk dancing and eating traditional food such as tacos and mole poblano.

For those of us who celebrate this holiday, Happy Cinco De Mayo!
